

My story as promised

In November whilst I was doing my charity work for the British Legion I met a lady who used to come to me when I had my Holistic Therapy business in York, she came to me for healing and at the time because she kept hearing voices in her head her husband was thinking seriously about having her sectioned. We exchanged telephone numbers again and promised to keep in touch. It was obvious that Elizabeth was on her spiritual path and it was good to have someone to talk to about where we were going with it. She phoned me a few weeks later and then began our really good chat it developed into a lengthy conversation.

Elizabeth began telling me about hearing her Angels talking to her and telling her to stand in her own truth. I told Elizabeth I had a CCDH affirmation to give her that I thought would help her and I would give it to her later. I said I thought it would help her and she could use it morning and night as it had helped me so much to be a part of this wonderful system of healing which has changed my life for the better for ever. She asked why I couldn't do it over the phone now. When I began to give her the affirmation she interrupted and repeated what I use daily almost word for word as I say it in order to clear my space so that I know exactly who and what I am communicating with and asking for help. Knowing that I hadn't given Elizabeth the affirmation I asked her who had given her it. Her answer was MY ANGEL gave me it. When I told Jeannie this story she was overjoyed because she said if the Angels were now giving it to individuals freely it meant it had been taken up by them as an effective exercise to get clear intention, truth and integrity to all the Souls on the Earth Plane. Wow (works of wonderment)

Angels are at work in many mysterious ways in all walks of life you just need to know how to.....
And CCDH gives clear and concise avenues to explore in perfect harmony, safety and support.
