

Crystal Clear Diamond Healing Resident Crystals

The above crystal has a very special story attached to it as it is the first ever major crystal purchase I made. It was some twenty years ago and I had been to see a Tarot reader who left me stunned as in one session she confirmed everything I had ever surmised about spirits and energies but had suppressed because society said "what you do not see does not exist and if you believe what you "think" you are seeing your are nuts". I had always had accurate premonitions – however the ability untrained made me erratic in my thoughts and emotions which became mainly fear based what if's. i.e. what if and then I would immediately wonder if my my "what if" was actually a premonition as my premonitions were so accurate at times. Well the visit to the Tarot reader confirmed for me that I was not actually crazy and there was something in these premonitions after all.

I bought my own Tarot Deck and within two weeks was giving readings and I began to visit the psychic fairs ever in search of more information more readings. I ended up- buying a deck of cards called the Power Deck and the first card I pulled had a message "look for the power in the stone". I had a friend interested in crystals but had never pursued this avenue myself. I found myself one day in a shop selling crystals and I picked up a very small one which cost me at the time £1.00. money was very short and I mentally ticked myself off big time for having wasted the precious £1.00. I forgot all about my purchase until later that evening when I went to the brown paper bag holding the crystal. As I held it between both finger and thumbs it began to pulse between my fingers and it seemed to light up eventually the light created a figure of eight as it circled the crystal between my fingers and thumbs. I was mesmerised and I could see shappes in the crystal. I was hooked.

A short while later a friend asked me if I would like to go to a spiritual fair the following week and when I telephoned her that following week to arrange for us to go she had lost the newspaper with the name of the hotel where the fair was being held. I phoned my friend Dawn who said "Oh yes they are usually held at the .....Hotel". Next day having not written down the name of the Hotel Dawn had told me about I racked my brains to remember and the name of a hotel popped into my head. I got the telephone book looked up the number of the hotel name which had popped into my head and phoned them. Yes there was a psychic fair there today. As I walked round the fair the crystal ball caught my eye. I could at the time see an eagle in it. I enquired the price and was horrified to find it was £60.00. No way I told myself could I afford that crystal. I wandered around the fair for a couple of hours and I knew I had to buy that crystal so I enquired whether they would accept a credit card and I put it on my credit card. On the way home my friend Sylvie and I decided to pay a visit to Dawn to show her what I had bought. When she asked where the fair had been I said "oh where you told me at the .....hotel (I do not remember the name now). Oh but I did not tell you it was there Dawn replied I have never known that Hotel to have a psychic Fair. THE MORAL OF THIS LITTLE STORY – THE RIGHT CRYSTAL WILL FIND YOU BY WHATEVDER MEANS NECESSARY WHEN YOU HAVE DECIDED TO EMBARK ON THE CRYSTAL JOURNEY
